

Kekenet 可可英语

An app with both audio and video materials for Chinese students to learn English, resources available concerning TED speech, foreign news, BBC documentary, American & British TV series, etc.

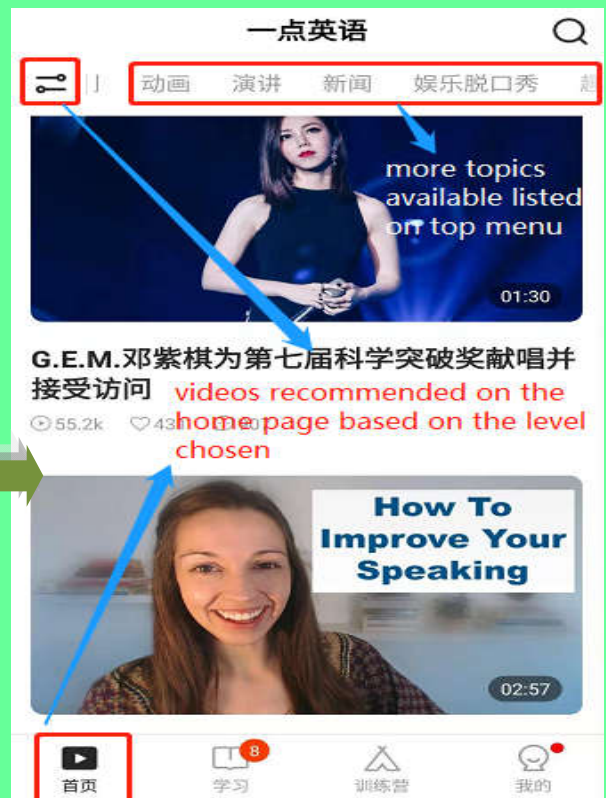

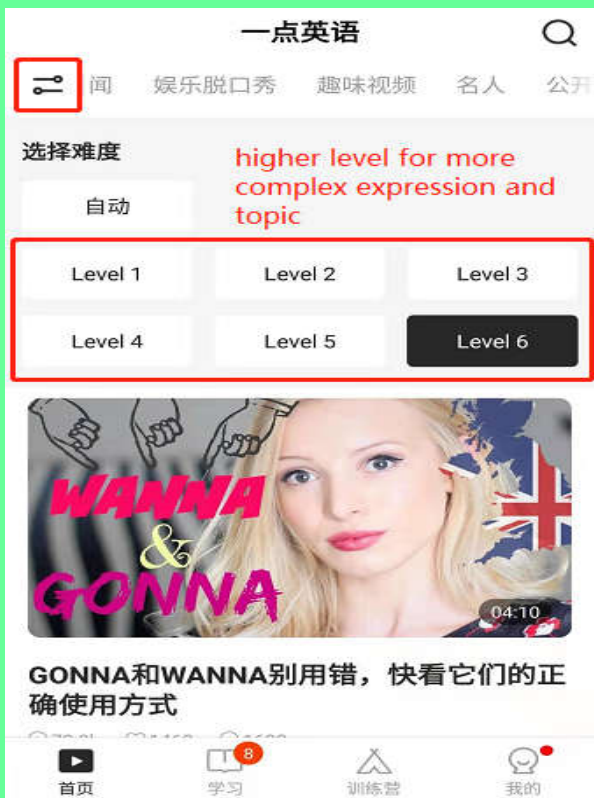

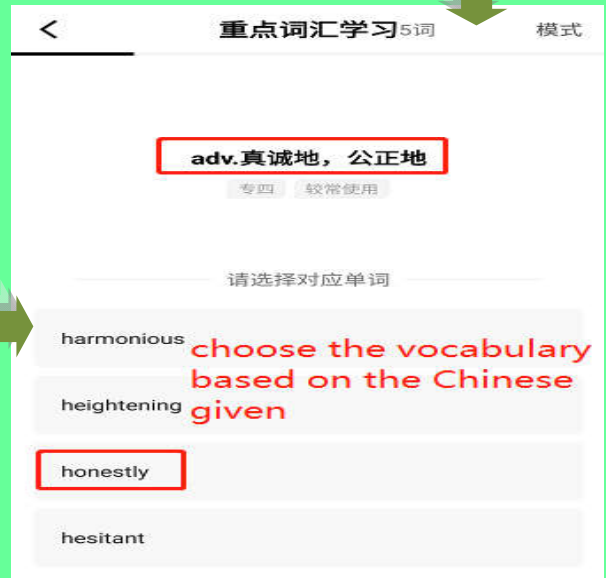

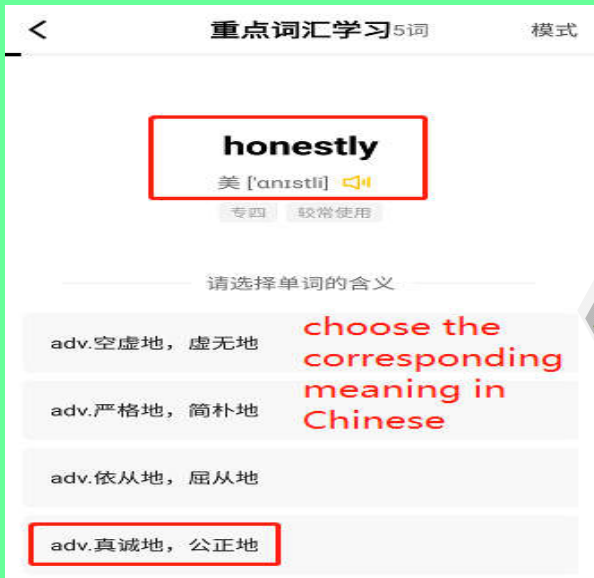

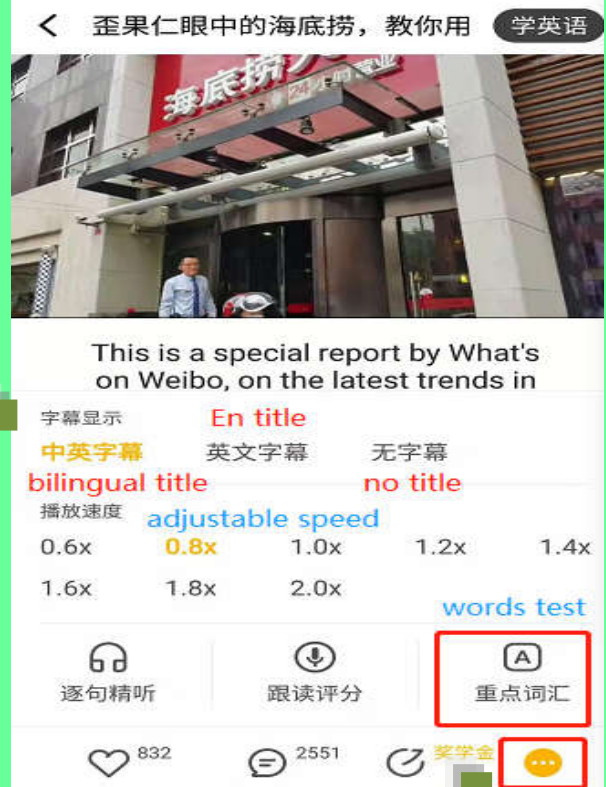

Dear Translate 有道翻译官

An app available for text and voice translation, powered by Youdao group, catering for Chinese travelling abroad or talking with foreigners. It works well on simple daily communication. Although some of the results translated don't sound native, sometimes even with slight errors, the Mandarin pronunciation is standard if correct input is done, and it could input the Chinese characters according to articulate spoken Chinese. Therefore, it is safe to check the Mandarin pronunciation of a certain text, and check if you are pronouncing Mandarin in a correct way via this app.

一点英语

An app providing short English videos in various topics in multiple fields with Chinese and English titles. Chinese students use this app to learn English in short intervals like standing in line, waiting for the class to start, on the way home on the subway or bus, etc. It offers recording test for spoken English and vocabulary test to check whether the key words mentioned in the video are mastered.
